deloni

A young platform with one clear job: help B2B teams grow on evidence.

Deloni is a sales-intelligence platform for companies that sell to companies, in any industry. Deloni Sales shows your team who has a reason to buy right now and takes you to the meeting. Deloni Marketing, on the same account, plans and measures the marketing that feeds it.

Our mission

Make growth measurable for every B2B team, whatever its size: the right company, at the right time, with proof of what worked.

both apps, both languages

B2B teams do not lack effort. They lack timing and proof.

Lists without priority

Hours of research without knowing who has a reason to listen now. The buying moment passes.

Marketing and sales apart

Leads are handed over without context, and nobody sees which campaign brought the deal.

Effort without measurement

Posts, ads and messages go out, but spend, leads and revenue live in different places.

Deloni Sales shows who to call now and why; Deloni Marketing completes it by measuring what brings revenue.

Deloni Sales first, with Deloni Marketing beside it.

The usual way, and the Deloni way.

	The usual way	Deloni
Starting point	A generic list of names	A recent, published buying signal
Evidence	Often unsourced	Source, date and confidence for every fact
Marketing and sales	Separate tools and numbers	One loop from first touch to revenue
Cost	Fixed subscriptions, used or not	A clear price per step; failures refunded
Market and language	Thin local coverage	Your market's sources, in its language

What we have measured so far.

Numbers from live campaigns on the platform, with their source. We show only what we have measured.

Who Deloni is built for

Pay for what runs. Nothing more.

50 credits = 1 US dollar. One balance for both apps, and you see the price before every paid action.
